

Girly Girl

BAND STORY

The recently renamed Girly Girl was originally a trio consisting of Ian Rich, Mark Lewis and Tracy Schindler who met through the LA underground club scene and ended up doing some studio work together at Smog Studios (Ian Rich's studio) in Hollywood the mid 1990's.

Although Ian and Mark have written and produced (or remixed) numerous tracks together over the years for various labels, the inclusion of Tracy on vocals made for an interesting and fun collaboration when they recorded a demo of the song "Together". The three have since gone their separate ways but remain friends and who knows... maybe they'll get back "together" at some point for some more production!
